

What is Credo Reference?

Credo is a vast online reference library, providing access to the full text of hundreds of highly regarded and popular titles. And Credo brings the facts alive with images, sound files, animations, videos and much more. Find speedy, simple answers and full in-depth articles.

What is special about Credo Reference?

Credo's huge library of facts is made easily accessible in engaging and entertaining ways – you have the concept map for visual learners, dynamic tables to make statistics meaningful, interactive maps, timelines to put events into historical context, talking dictionaries and the ever popular crossword solver.

How many titles are available?

Credo Reference is constantly expanding and currently offers around 300 quality reference titles on every major subject. You can access over three million cross-referenced, searchable, authoritative entries – a growing world of information at the click of a mouse!

What sort of titles are they?

Credo Reference contains dictionaries, bilingual dictionaries, thesauri, encyclopaedias, quotations and atlases. Plus a wide range of subject-specific titles covering everything from the arts to accountancy, science to Shakespeare and law to literature.

Where does the information come from?

From 57+ of the best known and most respected publishers in the world, such as Penguin, Macmillan, Bloomsbury, Collins and Debrett's. You can rest assured that every single word has been checked and re-checked by a team of expert editors.

How do I get started?

Go to <http://www.credoreference.com>. You can get started by simply typing keyword(s) into the search box and clicking on the 'Search' button. Or click on 'Browse Topics' and choose the collection that you would like to explore, eg Biography, History, Medicine, Technology, etc.

CREDO reference

CREDO reference

CREDO reference

Does Credo Reference search the web?

No, when you use Credo you're searching a collection of books from the world's leading publishers; so you know you can trust what you read.

Is it free?

You don't have to pay to use Credo Reference. Your library or institution has paid the subscription fee which means you can use it as much as you want for absolutely nothing!

Can I use Credo Reference at home?

Credo offers remote access to library users, which means that you may be able to use Credo Reference from home, the office or any computer in the world. To find out whether your library can provide this service, please contact your librarian.

Where can I find out more about Credo?

Credo Reference is very intuitive to use, but if you're new to the site, you may want to refer to the help section where you'll find information on how to get the most out of this resource. The starter quiz is a fun way to get acquainted with Credo Reference. And whether you subscribe or not, why not sign up for the weekly Brainteaser Quiz at <http://corp.credoreference.com/brainteaser>. For more information on Credo, including a full list of publishers and titles, go to our homepage: <http://corp.credoreference.com>

Our help section:

<http://www.credoreference.com/help>

START making SENSE

CREDO reference